FOOTBALL'S INAUGURAL FRIDAY

"Our Town"

by J. B. WHITE

A period of mild weather or a hot spell in September, October or November is bound to be labeled "Indian summer" by amateur weather prophets, and every mortal practices to some degree this sort of prognostication. And just as often as Indian summer is identified somebody wonders where the name came from and if there is any fixed date for the arrival of this summer postscript.

Indian summer is also known as St. Martin's summer. St Martin's festival falls on November 11, and Indian summer is due about the same date, perhaps a little earlier or later, as it may happen, or even as late as early December. Late summer weather in September and the autumn days of October are not to be mistaken for Indian summer. A succession of hazy days of delicious mildness, following a spell of cold, stormy weather, constitutes the true Indian summer.

But why is this return of summer-like weather called Indian summer? A plausable derivation is seen in the old Indian custom of harvesting corn in this season. Another theory is that Pilgrims gave it the name when they were told by the Indians that summer would return after the first spell of winter.

An interesting explanation is given in the "Notes" of Dr. Joseph Doddridge, born in 1763, a student of folklore, traditions and history of the Indians and early settlers. He traces the origin of the name to the fact that the incursions of the savages against the white settlers, which were interrupted by the arrival of winter, were resumed during the period of warmer weather usually experienced in New England in the late autumn.

What has become of the drought news? Only a few weeks ago newspapers and newsreels were full of it. The answer is: Washed out by heavy rains.

Rain; not just a drizzle nor merely a shower, but rain that fills cellars, converts dry creek beds into raging torrents and soaks the soil down to the deepest roots has fallen in the areas which has been drought stricken. So the reader finds flood news where there had been accounts of dust storms, thirsty livestock and desperate farmers.

Rain was a long time coming to the new "Sahara" in the middle west, and it came too late to save their little world for thousands of families.

What is capital to the financier, orders to the manufacturer, votes to the politician and food to the starving body, rain to the farmer. Frosts, floods, old fashioned winters and heat he can survive but against drought he is powerless.,

The farmer's wish for 1937 is that there shall be no prolonged dry

GRAND JURY SEES DILAPIDATED JAIL

The Grand Jury, under the direction of Sheriff R. M. Kennedy, made an inspection of the county jail Tuesday morning for the purpose of ascertaining the condition of the building and how it might be repaired.

Sheriff Kennedy pointed out the undesirable system of sanitation, the worn out heating system, broken down bunks, and weak cell blocks. Cracks in the foundation and side walls of the jail were also pointed out. These cracks are believed to have resulted from vibrations caused by freight trains passing within a few feet of the jail.

New bunks have been ordered according to Sheriff Kennedy but have not been installed. Many of the cell blocks have been repaired but prisoners are still able to escape.

This investigation may lead to extensive repairs on the jail.

Dick Powell's Smile is Old Family Custom; Father Here Talks About Son

By C. W. GJEDDE

It's the same smile alright! The smile that has thrilled a nation for four years, the smile that placed "42nd Street" first in the hearts of motion picture fans, the smile that personified dignity in "Flirtation Walk," and the smile that left the nation hungering after the last scene of "Shipmates Forever," passed from the screen.

Talks to Reporter

As Ewing Powell, sixty-year-old father of Dick Powell, famed motion picture star, sat in the living room of the J. C. Martin home here Saturday evening, being interviewed by reporters, it was no difficult matter to understand where Dick Powell got his famous smile. He inherited it from his father.

Visiting In Cameron

Ewing Powell, uncle of Mrs. J. C Martin and guest in the Martin home was born and raised in Carydon, Kentucky. In 1903 with his family moved to Little Rock, Arkansas where Dick was born in 1905. The elder Powell served the International Harvester Company as a salesman and executive for twenty eight years in and around Little Rock. He is now retired.

Dick is Same Boy

When asked about Dick's boyhood, his reply was, "Dick has not changed one bit since he was a boy of six—he has always been the same fellow you see on the screen." Dick received his education in Little Rock where he completed a high school course. He refused to go to college and as soon as he finished high school he took a job reading meters for the Arkansas Light and Power Company. Later he worked with the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company but he was never satisfied with that kind of work. He always wanted to be an actor.

"Leaving the telephone company he

Rekindle Interest In Constitution

Constitution Week in America began on September 13th and will end on September 19th. It is urged that every American read the Constitution during this week.

The Constitution is a covenant in government entered into by a free people with rich background in individual liberty and with certain definite ideas they wanted to accomplish.

They had preserved their freedom by revolution—a diffeent use of revolution than that advocated to-day. That all men are born free and equal was the tenet of their faith, equal before the law, with equal right to seek happiness, worship God as they chose, work and acquire property, and be secure in their homes. All these citizens desired of their government was protection from interference in their lawful pursuits.

Confederation Failed

The articles of Confederation had failed woefully because there was no power to compel. Taxes might be laid but could not be collected. Agreements might be made but could not

PETE MIKULA, 68, BURIED IN CAMERON

Funeral services for Pete Mikula, 68, who died at the home of his son, Jerry Mikula in Cameron at 2:45 Monday morning September 14, 1936, were held Tuesday morning at Saint Monica's church at ten o'clock with Rev. Mr. Mikula was born in Europe in 1868. He came to America and settled in Milam county 26 years ago. Eleven years ago he was a successful farmer in the Marak community, but retired from his business of producing and moved to Cameron to live with his family of sons.

Mr. Mikula lived the life of a good neighbor and drew to himself and family the good will and friendship of many. He was successful in his field of endeavor, that of farming, and reared a family of four sons, all living. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Mikula; four sons as follows: Jerry Mikula, Anton Mikula, Pete Mikula, Jr., and Ben Mikula.

Water From 8 Inches Of Rain Will Come Down Little River

Water from more than 8 inches of rainfall was coming down Little River Wednesday. Heavy rains on its watershed in Lampassas and Bell Counties sent flood waters down its channel.

YOEMEN DUE LOSS IN OPENING GAME

America's colorful spectacle—Football—and high school's greatest heart throb, gets its inaugural laurels here Friday night when the 1936 Yoemen open the season against Marlin. Six home games are on the card this year.

To Caldwell

On September 25th the Yoemen go to Caldwell to play their ancient rivals in the Burleson county capital. The first conference game is against Thrall in Cameron on October 2nd. Then following these games: October 9, Georgetown in Cameron; October 16, Taylor in Taylor; October 23, Granger in Granger; October 30, Rosebud in Cameron; November 6, Rockdale in Rockdale; November 20, Belton in Cameron. A game with Mart in Cameron is to be played on November 23.

Wood Fearful

Coach Carol Wood was keeping his thoughts resolutely to himself, except to confess his fears of a bad season. If injuries do not hamper the team, he may win against Thrall, Georgetown, Rockdale and Mart, but is certain to have plenty of trouble with the others.

Light Team

The team is light. In the backfield are Joe McLean, letterman and crack player who will lead the attack. With him is Earl Peck and Luie Turner, both expected to come through, the former a letterman from last year. The line is an unknown quantity. Gerald Mode and Luther Pool both are back and the line has been built around them. Cutheral Heath looks fair at center. Paul Stach looks like a real prospect at end. Jimmie Stewart of Milano is one of the lettermen and guard on whom Coach Wood will lean heavily this year.

Marlin 13; Cameron 6

Marlin was expected to take the opening game from the Yoemen 13 to 6 on the basis of local appraisal. Cameron defeated Marlin in the opening game last year.

BEN ARNOLD THIEVES GET NOTHING IN 3 ATTEMPTS

The Brod Gin, Yardley Store and the United States Post Office in Ben Arnold, were robbed Tuesday night.

The thieves knocked the knob from the safe in the office of the Brod Gin but found no money. Nothing was missing from the office according to Sheriff Kennedy.

After having failed to get loot from the Brod safe, it is believed that the same thieves struck again. The second attempt was made on the Yardley store where the post office is located. They entered the store through a rear window and knocked the knob from the safe but found only a few cents. Nothing else was missing from the store.

A nickel anl a French coin were used to remove the glass from the window through which the thieves entered. The coins were placed between the finger tips of the thief and the glass to hide finger prints. A clear print of the two coins were brought out in the finger print test.

Sheriff Kennedy expects to make an arrest soon.

She Tries Hard ... But In Vain!

She tried to take care of her own hair, but it ended as so many cases have . . . a complete failure. Her hair does not have the luster that it should, it is lacking that appealing lovliness. Her hair is badly damaged, the ends are dry, it has been overbleached, and harmful chemicals have been used. Occasional visits to different shops, that take no personal interest in the patron, undoubtedly hindered instead of helped.

No Effort And Beautiful Hair

Now she is getting the full luster and charm that she deserves. She has regular appointments with Lalla Meyers—her hair is kept in wonderful condition. She now has appealing lovliness in her hair that she has been lacking. Whether it be dinner, golf, riding, dancing, or swimming her hair is always in condition. We make a study of her hair and its problems. Visit Lalla Meyer's soon and notice the difference.

Certain forms of expenditures are essential in business. A concern needs a good location, it needs quarters adequate to carry on its work. It must have a sufficient number of salespeople and clerks to meet the public and keep correct accounts.

Business authorities would agree that for most concerns, some form of advertising is also essential. If people are asked to buy a certain business, they should ask if it is well advertised, if the people know about it, if the impression is created in the public mind that it is giving good service, and has life and hustle.

An enterprise can't expect to succeed in these times, unless the people knew about it, think favorably of it. It takes many years to build up such an impression by any method other than advertising.

PLAYERS LEARN WITH THE AMERICAN BOY

Boys and young men who want to improve their crawl stroke, their basket shooting, their hurdling, their tennis backhand, or their ball carrying, can enlist the aid of the nation's foremost coaches and players by subscribing to THE AMERICAN BOY magazine and following the sports interviews and fiction stories that appear each month.

Story of Bobby Wilson

For the coming year staff writers have gone to two of the greatest football teams in the country—Minnesota and Southern Methodist—for first hand tips on strategy, blocking, ball carrying, passing, and the fine points of line play. They have written the story of Bobbie Wilson, All-American halfback.

Many Athletes Listed

They have interviewed famous track coaches like Bernie Moore and Bob Simpson. Have gone to the University of Oklahoma to learn how college champions wrestle, to Notre Dame for the story of the building of a great basketball team. They have sought out famous baseball players, swimmers, tennis champions and All-American backs, to get their story of how to play the game.

Good Fiction

AMERICAN BOY fiction is jammed with instructive background details telling how to play a better game. And the rest of the magazine is jammed with adventure, exploration, vocational help and articles vital to boys.

For Future Champions

Ohio State University's track head, coach of the famous sprinter and low hurdler, Jesse Owens, and himself a former hurdling star, first learned to hurdle from articles in THE AMERICAN BOY. "I used to cut out hurdling pictures and duplicate them in front of a mirror. Then on the track I'd follow that form."

Today thousands of future champions are just as eagerly following THE AMERICAN BOY. Send in your subscription to the AMERICAN BOY, 7430, Second Blvd., Detroit, Mich. Enclose with your name and address $1 for a years subscription, $2 for three years, and add 50 cents if you want the subscription to go to a foreign address. On newsstands, 10 cents a copy.

Man Murders Radio Star; Then Laughs

Dayton, Ohio. — A laughing murderer, who chuckled as he left his victim dying, shot and killed Loy Bodine, thirty, of the radio team of "Nip and Tuck," while a horrified woman watched.

Police said that the identity of the slayer is known, and that he had threatened Bodine several times. At the time of the slaying they were said to be quarreling over a woman.

To Mrs. Elizabeth Putcheket, who saw Bodine fall with three bullets in his head, and asked if he had shot him, the slayer smilingly said:

"Why, yes, I did."

GOVERNOR CONVENES TEXAS LEGISLATURE

AUSTIN, September 10.—Governor Allred announced today the legislature would convene in extraordinary session Sept. 28 to consider new revenue for old age assistance.

The call had been expected after pension officials indicated weeks ago that additional funds would be needed before the legislature could act at its regular session in January.

Estimate Surpassed

Approximately 78,000 persons were on the rolls, Orville S. Carpenter, old age assistance director, said, about 70,000 applications had not been acted on and about $800,000 was available for pension activities.

The governor noted that far more persons were qualifying for pensions than the original estimate of 60,000 and expressed the opinion it was due to "liberality" of the Texas law.

More Revenue Needed

He said he planned at this time to submit only the subject of revenue raising for pension purposes, but some believed legislation to enable Texas further to participate in the federal social security program, coordination of social welfare work and possibly other matters would be sent up later.

"The only subject definitely in mind," Allred said, "is the financing of old age pensions. There may be others. I don't know right now."

Hopes for Short Session

He voiced hope that only one session of 30 days would be necessary, and that local bills would be held to a minimum. While he expected to recommend ways of raising revenue he did not announce them.

Increased taxes on natural resources, utilities, gifts and inheritances, as well as general sales and income levies, have been suggested by legislators.

$6,000,000 Needed

The entire field of taxation was expected to be opened, under rulings by Coke Stevenson, speaker of the house of representatives, but few agreed on how much new revenue would be needed. Some estimated about $6,000,000.

The government and social aspects committee of the planning board worked, meanwhile, on a bill to create a state board of public welfare to handle the social security program. It will be presented Sept. 18 to the board, which in turn will send it to the governor for any action he chooses to take.

It is very economical, purely vegetable, highly effective. . . Mr. J. ### IS IT REALLY ART?

After more than twenty years of agitation Port Chester, N. Y., has the model of a Spanish-American war memorial for inspection, and is all wrought up over the question of whether or not the 11-foot clay model executed by Sculptor Karl Pavany-Illava is art. Inelegantly nicknamed "The Slob" by one faction, it is staunchly defended by another which wants to get away from the "glorification" of the soldier, and wants to show him as a fighting man, not as a "well-dressed dude." Here is the model.

Oldest White Man In Arizona, Lifelong Drinker, Dies at 108

PRESCOTT, Ariz., September 4.—Edward McGinley, who claimed to be 108 years old and attributed his longevity to his daily nip of hard liquor, died peacefully Friday at the Arizona Pioneers home. He was born March 18, 1928.

He was known as the oldest living white man in Arizona.

An hour and a half before death, McGinley pulled on his clothes and went for a little walk, a daily habit. When he returned to his bed, he calmly announced to those about him "Well, I'm going."

A few minutes later he was dead.

From the time he picked slate out of coal piles in the mines of Maunch Chunk, Pa., for 7c a day to the time he entered the Pioneers Home at the age of 99, McGinley led the rough and tumble existence of a teamster on railroads and levee building projects.

In 1858, McGinley followed the first railroad into Omaha; in 1872 into Fort Larned, Kan., and in 1882, into Benson, Ariz., on the old Benson & Guaymas Railroad.

As a teamster, McGinley boasted of his ability to "cuss" with the same pride he exhibited in his capacity for hard liquor.

"I've got to keep the old wagon oiled up," he said on his last birthday, taking his usual nip of "dookey." "I'm good for fifty years yet."

Publicity photos of a new automobile reveal no blond on the running board. This thing of asking the public to love a car for itself alone is new.

Builder of Roads In Milam County, Sam Ferguson, Dies

ROCKDALE, Sept. 9.—Funeral services for Sam Ferguson, 86, who died Monday at his home in the Gee Prairie community, were held Tuesday at the Murray cemetery.

Mr. Ferguson had lived in Milam county since a child. In the early days he was engaged in the freighting business when oxen were used for transportation. He was an overseer of Milam county and helped build the road for Rock Crossing to Cameron, the county seat, using oxen to do the grading.

He also helped to build the old Aransas Pass Railroad, when wheelbarrows were used to carry the heavy loads.

He is survived by two sons, John and Dan Ferguson; a brother, Jess Ferguson, five grandchildren and one great grandchild, all of Rockdale.

3,036,000 Bales Is Texas Forecast

AUSTIN, Sept. 10.—The United States department of agriculture yesterday forecast the Texas cotton crop for 1936 as 3,036,000 bales.

Based upon the condition of Sept 1, the forecast gave the state an increase of 80,000 bales over last year's production of 2,956,000, but fell 1,544,000 short of the five year peak period of 1928 to 1932.

It also represents a decrease of 814,000 bales or 21 per cent below the Aug. 1 estimate. Drouth conditions, coupled with excessive hot weather, were blamed by the division of crop and livestock estimates in Austin.

BARGANIER FAMILY IN ALABAMA REUNION

A reunion of the Barganier family was held recently at Greenville, Alabama, G. H. Bargainer and Mrs. C. N. Dickens of Marln, representing Falls county members of the family. Mrs. Dickens has been a visitor in Alabama for several weeks and is still there. Mr. Barganier drove over for the reunion and returned.

G. H. Barganier of Reagan and C. E. Barganier of Marlin, brothers, and J. G. and O. H. Barganier, Mrs. C. N. Dickens and Mrs. O. H. Porterfield, all of Marlin, and A. Barganier of Lott, brothers and sisters, are members of the family living in Falls county.

An account of the reunion published in the Lowndes Signal of Fort Deposit, Alabama, reads:

Reunion Held

"The Barganier reunion was held on the large plantation of B. C. Barganier, Sr., last Thursday (August 20). This reunion was attended by over four hundred relatives and friends, including several generations. Of interest to the relatives was a pair of trousers which were worn by the late Jesse Barganier on his wedding day and at the present time they are over 114 years old.

Barbecue Is Served

"At the noon hour a splendid barbecue was served, tables being spread near the beautiful fish pond on the plantation. Judge Leon McCord of Montgomery was a guest of honor for the day and while here made a splendid address, using the subject, "What it means to belong to a large family.'

"The occasion will be long remembered by all who were fortunate enough to attend."

In the Greenville Advocate, prior to the reunion, was published this brief history:

"John J. Barganier, the great grandfather of B. C. Barganier, came to the United States from France with LaFayette and fought in the Revolutionary War. Instead of returning to his native land, he remained here, married Ann Harding, daughter of a colonist.

Another Reunion

"His great grandson, B. C. Barganier, is very anxious to see how many of the descendants of this Revolutionary soldier can get together, and so is planning a family reunion to be held at his fish pond nine miles north of Greenville on the Mantgomery highway, on Thursday, August 20th.

Mover to Alabama

After the death of John J. Barganier, his widow and sons, Jesse, Jim and Mack, went from Virginia to Georgia, then came to Alabama. Jesse, the grandfather of the Butler county commissioner, was the first to settle in this state. The others came later and all settled near Fort Deposit and reared large families.

Large Family

"Jesse Barganier was the father of nineteen children. Nine of his sons fought for the Confederacy in the War Between the States. Seven of the nine returned home after the war. One of these Confederate soldiers was the father of B. C. Barganier. (Grandfather of the members of the family living in Falls county).

"The Barganier family is large and there are many connections . . ." —Marlin Democrat.

Mrs. Kuehl a Member

Of interest to her many friends in Cameron is the fact that Mrs. W. E. Kuehl is a descendant on her mother side of the late John J. Barganier who came to America from France with LaFayette. Her family thus figured prominently in the early history of the American republic. The clipping above was sent to Mrs. Kuehl from Marlin and was requested for publication by the Herald. Mrs. Kuehl's illustrious family continue to make history and are prominent in Texas affairs, a brother being district judge at Marlin.

Laxative combination folks know is trustworthy

The confidence thousands of parents have in good, old reliable, powdered Thedford's Black-Draught has prompted them to get the new Syrup of Black-Draught for their children. The grown folks stick to the powdered Black-Draught; the youngsters probably will prefer it when they outgrow their childish love of sweets. Mrs. C. W. Adams, of Murray, Ky., writes: "I have used Thedford's Black-Draught (powder) about thirteen years, taking it for biliousness. Black-Draught acts well and I am always pleased with the results. I wanted a good, reliable laxative for my children. I have found Syrup of Black-Draught to be just that."

Republican Is Named For Seat in Congress

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 8—The Secretary of State was notified Tuesday of the Republican nomination of J. A. Simpson of Webb County for Congress from the Fifteenth District in which Milton H. West of Brownsville is the incumbent and Democratic nominee. Simpson replaced G. C. Mann of Webb County, who declined to run as the Republican choice.

As reports of the GOP's death have been found both premature and exaggerated, the old argument is resumed, in New York, as to where it was born.

WATER SURVEY OF MILAM COMPLETE

Milam County's water supply was pronounced excellent by W. I. (Billy) Clark, engineer and former head of the Milam County Relief Board, who has just completed a survey of the county under the Board of Water Engineers at Austin.

Salt Water Found

Salt water is found in the northern part of the county and the artesian belt lies south of Branchville and near Port Sullivan. Milam County's largest known spring is on the Giles McDermott farm at the B Shoals on Little River. This spring is not more than 50 feet from the River bed and flows about 150 gallons per minute.

To Issue Book

Mr. Clark said the water supply of the county was practically free from minerals or other impurities. He will be transferred to Burleson county soon. A book will be issued by the Board of Water Engineers at Austin covering the recent survey made in Milam County by Mr. Clark.

Quick Firemen Keep Down Fire Losses

The Cameron Fire Department put another star in its crown here last week when it put out two would-be destructive fires before any damage was done.

A fire broke out in the C. N Green Grocery Sunday morning but due to the swift action of the fire department no damage was done. The Weems gin fire of last week would have caused the loss of thousands of dollars worth of property had it not been for the speed and skill of the department.

A number of trash fires have resulted from careless smokers and trash burners. Frank Richter, truck driver of the Cameron Fire Department, cautions citizens against starting fires where there is a possibility of it spreading into the grass.

These 5 Lettermen Neucules of Team Against Marlin Friday

LITTLE YOEMEN ALL SET FOR MARLIN

The Cameron Yoemen, although unprepared, will meet the Marlin eleven in a non-conference game Friday night September 18 on the C. H. Yoe High School Athletic field for the first game of the season.

Although Yoemen will have had only three weeks of practice by Friday night, local fans are confident that the Yoemen will win by a wide margin. L. C. Wood, head football coach, has made no statement as to what his bantam-weight team will do.

Five Lettermen

With only five lettermen back in the line-up this year, Coach Wood is faced with the difficult problem of picking the remaining six boys from some thirty "rookies." Although anything can happen before the starting whistle Friday night, today the prospective line up is: Stach and Hatch ends; Poole and Stuart, tackles; Made and Guess, guards; Peck, Turner, McLane, and Underwood in the back field, and C. Heath at center.

Much will depend on Dero Underwood, the fast little Yoeman left half, to work an aerial attack against Marlin. Poole will be the best bet in the line.

New Equipment

The new equipment purchased this year has put the boys and the fans in high spirit and a large crowd is expected to attend the game Friday night to see the scrappy little Yoemen eleven, dressed in their new red and white suits, battle against the fine, well coached Marlin team in the first game of the season.

CAMERON LOSES TO SURGEONS 1 TO 0

Ben Zoch was superstition's perfect antidote Sunday as he set the Cameron Icers dowwn with two scratch hits and no runs while the Surgeons worked hard to get him one run and the victory, putting them out in front in the heart O' Texas finals two games to one.

The Surgeons won the ball game in the seventh, as Lind hit, went to second on Jansing's sacrifice bunt, to third on Evans hot grouder to first, and scored on Buckley's single to right field.

The Icers never threatened. Their mascot, the Black Icer, claimed to bring hits when the Icers rub his head wth a bat, was a bust.

Zock, with a little tighter fielding, might have had a no hit game. Smith's double to left field in the second could have been taken by Swede Lind, and Allen's Texas leaguer in the eighth in the middle of three Surgeons. It might have worked the other way, however, since the Surgeon infelders came up with several very hard grounders.

A crowd that filled the stands and bleachers, and hung over the fence, stayed on the edge all the way as man after man popped or grounded out. Strikeouts were one each, and only one man was walked by Zoch.

Buckley, with two hits, led the Surgeons at the plate.

HUDDLE HIGHLIGHTS

(From the Southwestern Conference)

Today this column makes its initial appearance in the Cameron Herald, and we take this opportunity to say "hello" to the subscribers of this paper. If you enjoy this column, let us know.

Owls Aggressive

Here in the big city of Houston, the Rice Owls, with most of the positions wide open for competition, are showing aggressiveness such as has rarely been displayed on the Feathered Flock's squad since the team came through and copped the Conference banner two seasons hence. Next Friday night, starting at 7:30 at the Rice Stadium, Coaches Jimmy Kitts and Lou Hertenberger will unveil their 1936 creation of the Rice Owls. This is an annual football demonstration sponsored by the "Friends of Rice," an organization of Rice Boosters. As they were last year, various plays will be run off at a "slow motion" gait to enable the fans to note the duties of each player and the importance of proper functioning to allow the success of the play. As a finale each play is run off in the spirited manner which Rice fans have become accustomed.

Although there are few stars returning, the fans can look for a well coached, speedy, tricky, aggregation of Owls to carry the colors of the blue and gray to the battlefront this season.

Stars Missing

While Wallace and McCauley, the "Touchdown Twins," "headline" Harry Witt, "Leche" Sylvester and others of proven ability are missing from the folds this fall, Kitts has Co-Captains Johnnie Frankie and Buck Freidman, pile-driving fullback as a nucleus to form the latest edition of the Owls. Also returning is Johnny Neece, fleet back from Mexia, Paul Hancock, 195 pound Sophomore halfback from El Campo, "Scat" Sulivan, rabbit back, together with a host of others, who may blossom out in mid-October to make the fans forget the start of a season or so ago.

Sammy Baugh Again

Hats off to "Slingin'" Sammy Baugh, TCU's great star. Doc South, who coaches in San Antonio told this office yesterday that Sammy spent a good part of the summer at his camp, and that there wasn't a more serious minded fellow to be found there than Sammy Baugh. Day in and day out, the Pride of Sweetwater spent an hour or so passing a football around with the youngsters who were eager to snag his rifle-like tosses. When the time came for hikes, Sammy was the first to hit the trail—eager to build up his legs—realizing that he will have to carry a big load for the Frogs when they start their trek for Conference honors. "Slinging" Sammy deserves all the credit he gets and I don't mean maybe. Make a memo in your little black book that this column told you that Sammy was going places this fall in a great big way.

Cordell To Rice

Olie Cordell, bruising back from Big Springs, Texas, has definitely decided to enroll in Rice Institute this fall. Much pressure was brought on this lad by some fellow townsmen in an effort to get him to go to A. & M. College, but Olie turned a deaf ear and is slated to star on the Frosh team this year.

Professionals Beaten

In the big all star game played at Dallas Monday night, Abe Michael of LSU really impressed your writer with his sparkling punting. Those low, spiralling boots really get the job done, believe you me. George Halas, Coach for the Chicago Bears, was very chagrined after the game, and don't you forget it. It was the first time in history that an All-Star College aggregation had rubbed the Pros in the dirt, and it hurt a plenty.

Any question that you sport fans would like to have cleared up, we will be more than glad to answer them. Just drop us a line in care of the paper you are now reading. See you in next week's paper.

Danger lurks along the paths of the Southwest Conference teams that tangle with the growling LSU Tigers this fall. The Louisiana boys, if reports from the sport scribes are true, have been training on raw meat and railroal ties all summer, preparing to start a season of undefeated football. They open their campaign against the feathered flock from Rice on September 26th, while the following Saturday finds them invading the corral of the Texas University Longhorns, which in all accounts should be a colorful game.

Watch Tinsley

The play of big Gaynell Tinsley, All-American end last year, will be watched with interest this season—as he attenpts to close out his years of competition in a blaze of glory.

Todd Season's Sensation

If Dick Todd, the muchly publicized sophomore ball-carrier of A. &. M. lives up to expectations, he will fool many so-called football experts. However, after watching the Cromwell Comet perform in the Rice-A. & M. freshman game last year, this column goes on record with the prediction that this youngster will prove the sensation of the season. Don't say we didn't tell you.

Rice Has Good Coach

Regardless of what you hear, Rice will have some of the best center players this season that they have had since Percy Arthur, the newest addition to the coaching staff, was guarding that spot for his alma mater—The reason: 195 pound Herman Price, Sophomore from Amarillo, a veteran of high school and junior college bonecrushing play. Watch him go this season.

This year, for the first time in many, the Rice football season will not conflict with the annual racing meet at Epsom Downs, or vice versa. The meet gets under way earlier this fall and comes at a time that the Owls are away from home, so everything is rosy between the high moguls of both organizations.

Watch Chester

Chester Hayes, erstwhile Chester Chenoski, jarring Rice Sophomore back, is truly a versatile—holding the State amateur wrestling and boxing titles in his respective weight. A tip to opposing players, be friendly and does not tackle against his will. The prescription if followed, assures peace and contentment, otherwise, don't say we didn't warn you.

1934 Star Returns

As a column prophecy, look for Frank Steen, star end of the 34 championship squad, and ineligible last season, to be in the thick of every play this season and there's a reason behind it. The matters are still complicated and we cannot divulge the story, but when we can, don't think we won't.

Stars Coming Back

Jack Robbins, Arkansas star sophomore quarter of last season, who will return this year one year older, will be the sparkplug of a motor which has been idling for some time and which looks to us, is about ready to start. Then, too, don't forget Lloyd Russell, babbling baritone, who in his spare moments totes a football for the Baylor Bears. His broken field operations may deal the other conference teams some real misery when the going gets tough. A funny story behind the star is the fact that SMU coaches just couldn't see this fella' when he had a similar job of carrying the pigskin for a high school team in Dallas, his home town. ARE THEIR FACES RED?

Cotton Comes In Slowly; Figure Trailing 1935

Milam County's cotton crop was getting on the market slowly and indications are it will be very low in number of bales.

Ray O'Neill, special agent for the Department of Commerce, reports that there were only 4032 bales ginned in the county up to September 1, 1936, as compared with 6132 up to that date in 1935.

Ginning has been brisk since the first of September and it is believed the next report will show around 15,000 bales.

Miss Congo, the smallest gorilla ever to come to the United States, and one of three lady gorillas in the whole country—there are seven gentleman gorillas scattered around in zoos—is taken for a ride by her trainer, Sam Parratt, at the Brookfield zoo, in Chicago. Miss Congo was the last of her kind to fall into the hands of man before the recent international treaty forbidding the export of gorillas from Africa went into effect.

Billy Gillis On Mountaineer Team Schreiner Institute

Kerrville, Texas, September 13.—Coaches H. C. "Bully" Gilstrap and W. M. Wilcox put their Schreiner Institute Mountaineers through the first scrimmage of the current season yesterday afternoon.

Approximately fifty boys have been in attendance at the training camp, according to Coach Gilstrap, and so far there have been no injuries or other mishaps. The Kerrville boys are now preparing for their first game, with the North Texas Aggies of Arlington, the game to be played in Kerrville.

While only a junior college, the Aggie school, coached by "Klepto" Holmes, will more than likely be one of the hardest foes for the Mountaineers to overcome during the season. Both teams have enviable records and will be out to defend them in this game. The N. T. A. C. is a branch of A. & M. and is famous for its scrapping teams.

Strong Team

Gilstrap's boys, however, should be able to deal all foes plenty of trouble with such veterans as W. C. Barnett and southpaw Carroll Jones in the backfield, and Captain Hayt Graves, LaRue Haralson, Billy Gillis and a host of others in the line, back to try and help the Mountaineers repeat their State Championship of last season.

Gillis at Center

Billy Gillis, well known Cameron boy who playing his second year for Schreiner, is showing up well at his center post. Gillis weighed in at 173 pounds and will see a lot of service at the center post the coming season.

How Cardui Helps Women To Build Up

Cardui stimulates the appetite and improves digestion, helping women to get more strength from the food they eat. As nourishment is improved, strength is built up, certain functional pains go away and women praise Cardui for helping them back to good health. . . . Mrs. C. E. Ratliff, of Hinton, W. Va., writes: "After the birth of my last baby, I did not seem to get my strength back. I took Cardui again and was soon sound and well. I have given it to my daughters and recommend it to other ladies." . . . Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them.* If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

"WE KNOW OUR BUSINESS"

Powell

got a job as a singer in a dance orchestra of his own. Dick's first break came when he became master of ceremonies at the Circle Theatre in Indianapolis It was there that he was discovered by Hollywood scouts and invited to come to the nation's picture capital for a screen test. The test proved good and he has been in Hollywood since.

To Wed Friday

"Dick is to be married to Joan Blondell on September 18." Dick and Joan will sail for New York after the marriage," Mr. Powell said when asked about Dick's engagement.

The elder Powell says Dick's throat which has been in a serious condition of late, is absolutely well and he can now sing as well as he ever did.

Liked "42nd Street"

"I liked Dick best in "42nd Street" and "Broadway Gondoliers," was Mr. Powell's reply when asked which of Dick's pictures he liked best.

Mr. and Mrs. Powell left Cameron for their home in Little Rock Monday.

Constitution

be enforced. The colonies which had united under pressure of necessity during the fight for liberty could not even settle disputes between themselves, and could not meet their obligations in the family of nations.

Constitution Written

Two states trying to settle water rights found many things that might be settled in unison, so an invitation was issued to all the states to send delegates to a convention at Philadelphia in May 1787. After months of deliberation behind closed doors with no daily reports to the world, no record kept, save that which James Madison chose to keep with infinite care, a constitution was brought forth. Compromise as to divergent interests resulted in final accord and on September 17, 1787, a new document was submitted to the states.

The preamble shows whose government it is, not some ruler granting liberties to the people, but a free people setting up a government to preserve those liberties and granting certain definite functions to thier government.

Read In 23 Minutes

Let us see what this instrument is that has accomplished such great changes in the life of the people. It may be read in 23 minutes; it contains seven original articles dealing respectively with the legislative power, the executive, the judicial, the relation between the states and the admission of new states, the amendment of the Constitution, the establishment of the Constitution as the supreme law of the land, and provision for its ratification.

Representation a Problem

The greatest question arose over the question of numercal representation of the free and the slave states, and the large and small. Compromise permitted the counts of three fifths of all the slaves in determining representation in the House, and equal representation of every state in the Senate. The House represents the people and here the purse strings are held. The Senate represents the states each one equal to the others, and here rests the power of treaty making and appointments of officers. Other powers are held concurrently, and bills for these purposes may originate in either House, must be passed by both Houses with a majority vote, and be signed by the president before they may become law. Two other ways in which an act of Congress may become law are: If within ten days the Presiden vetoes a bill and returns it to the House in which it originated and Congress by a two-thirds vote passes it again over the veto; and if the President fails to return it to Congress within ten days the bill becomes law by default.

Treason Defined

The powers of the President and those of the Judiciary are carefully limited and treason defined.

The Constitution was declared in effect when it had been ratified by nine of the thirteen states. To aid in obtaining its ratification, Hamilton and Madison published a paper called the Federalist.

The Bill of Rights

The principal objection to the ratification of the new document was the failure to enumerate therein the individual liberties claimed in the Declaration of Independence. This had not been deemed necessary in a document rising from the people, but ten amendments, sometimes called the American Bill of Rights, were presented to the first Congress and their ratification assured.

Power of Amendment

We see how early the power of amendment was invoked. These first ten amendments cannot in any sense be called a development of the Constitution. Rather did they become a part of its bone and sinew, a reminder to the new government that these rights were not to be violated. Jealous of their individual liberties and of their own sovereignty, states took great care to give to the federal government those functions only which concerned their united action.

States Protected

A dual form of government, with federal and state soverignty, each in its own sphere, is a distinguishing mark of that provided by the Constitution of the United States. The system of checks and balances is a further step to prevent tyranny and usurption of power.

The Executive may veto the Legislative; the Legislative may pass over the President's veto; the Judicial may declare the acts of Congress and the President unconstitutional, but only when these acts are brought before it in regular legal procedure.

Supreme Court Free

Every precaution is taken to free Supreme Court from graft or domination of any kind. Appointments are made for life by the President with the consent of the Senate. Furthermore, the salary is sufficient to remove the recipient from anxiety and care as to money matters. Public opinion still speaks as to the type of man demanded for this exalted position. Conservative and liberal they are, but everyone of unquestioned integrity and loyalty. Their duty is to interpret legislation in the light of the Constitution when called upon to do so by one who believes his constitutional rights have been violated.—'This Constitution shall be the supreme law of the land.'

Officers of Screen Boys' Club

Limited to youngsters under eighteen years of age who have at least three feature motion picture roles to their credit, the Screen Boys' club was organized at the home of Director W. S. Van Dyke with a nucleus of 15 charter members. It was a hilarious session—as witness this meeting of the officers. Left to right, they are: Freddie Bartholomew, president; Mickey Rooney, first vice-president, and Jackie Cooper, treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Newton went to Fort Worth Monday to attend the bankers convention and will be dinner guests at Casa Mananah.
